

El Bosque Nuevo

Farmer looking at caterpillars in the sleeves to ensure their health.

Multiple sleeves on tress with Morpho caterpillars eating foliage inside.

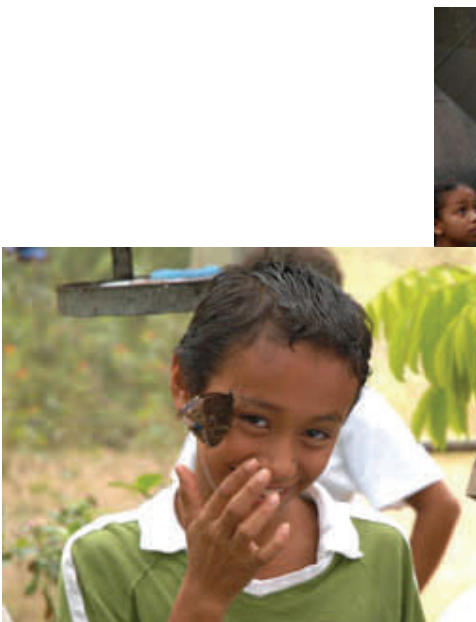

Morpho Larvae on leaves

Large morpho larvae being transported to the lab area for pupation.

Large larvae awaiting a cage in which to form their chrysalides.

Young Costa Rican student enjoys a "Morpho encounter".

A Teacher from MINAE (Costa Rican Agricultural Ministry) instructs young students at Bosque Nuevo about farming and butterflies.

Morpho pupae at El Bosque Nuevo are sorted and packed for shipping to butterfly exhibits worldwide.